JANUARY 2007- PRE-DIABETES:

Before the development of type 2 diabetes, individuals often have "pre-diabetes" -- blood glucose levels that are higher than normal but not yet high enough to be diagnosed as diabetes. There are 54 million people in the United States who have pre-diabetes. Recent research has shown that some long-term damage to the body, especially the heart and circulatory system, may already be occurring during pre-diabetes. Research has also shown that if you take action to manage your blood glucose when you have pre-diabetes, you can delay or prevent type II diabetes from ever developing.

Hardcopies of the packet will be available at all medical and fitness facilities. If you or your department/organization would like to be added to the monthly packet hardcopy distribution list, please call Kris Calderon at 867-3414 or Lauren Ratner at 867-4566.
